Millar Western is a progressive forest company offering diverse, rewarding careers in great Alberta communities, with excellent advancement opportunities and a healthy work-life balance.

Operations Management Trainee

Millar Western is looking for an energetic, inclusive individual with natural leadership abilities to join our Fox Creek Wood Products Division, in Fox Creek, Alberta, as an Operations Management Trainee. This position is a training and development role, preparing the incumbent for future operational leadership responsibilities. Reporting to the Operations Manager, the trainee will be actively trained in all operations including, but not limited to, safety, quality, production and logistics. Under the direction of experienced personnel, this individual will develop competencies in key areas of our operations including workflows, operational metrics and continuous improvement initiatives and will gain the knowledge and experience required for promotion to leadership positions.

The ideal candidate

The ideal candidate will have post-secondary education in a technical or business related field. Previous experience in an industrial setting and a forestry background would be considered an asset. The successful applicant must have a strong presence, be capable of earning respect and fostering positive morale, be a strategic thinker and have excellent interpersonal and communication skills.
