

Director of Communications Opportunity Truck Loggers Association

The Truck Loggers Association was formed in 1943 as a non-profit society to give independent timber harvesting contractors a collective voice in the changes taking place in the British Columbian forest industry. Now in its 75th year, the TLA's advocacy has attracted a diverse membership including timber harvesting contractors, suppliers, independent forest product producers, small tenure holders, and communities located throughout BC. With a growing membership of more than 480 member companies, the TLA is known as an influential grassroots voice for small business interests of the BC forest industry.

The Truck Loggers Association is seeking a Director of Communications, who must be able to effectively craft and deliver TLA perspectives and positions to the membership, government, industry stakeholders, media and the public. The position also includes the editorial management of the Truck LoggerBC magazine.

The position is based out of downtown Vancouver where you will be a key member of a small professional staff.

Some minor travel is required to attend TLA functions and events around BC.

A detailed job description can be found on the TLA's website at www.tla.ca/CommsSearch. Applicants should be prepared to provide compensation expectations with their applications.