

Plywood Trader

For over 60 years Richmond Plywood Corporation Limited (Richply) has been the reliable supplier of high quality Specialty, Industrial and Construction plywood from commodity sheathing to high-end sanded and specialty overlaid panels. Employing over 400 persons in a highly specialized operation, Richply offers a diverse value-added product mix including medium-density and high-density overlays (MDOs and HDOs) for concrete forming, paint grade for signage as well as specialty sanded and Marine grade panels. Markets include North America, the Pacific Rim and Europe.

Reporting to the Vice President – Sales, the Plywood Trader will be an integral member of a highly successful manufacturing and sales team with a committed customer orientation. Candidates will be reliable, energetic and motivated with a proven track record of success in plywood sales with a manufacturer or panel wholesaler. Ideally interested persons will have built relationships with stocking distributors, pro-dealers, OEMs and engineered wood products accounts.

Richply's location in Richmond, B.C. provides an easy commute to major communities in the Vancouver area or to smaller more rural towns such as Ladner, Tsawwassen and White Rock. The region provides one of Canada's preferred residence locations offering the very best combination of lifestyle choices, educational facilities and recreational opportunities.

The remuneration package reflects the importance of this senior position.
