

General Manager – Lumber Remanufacturer

This long established custom remanufacturer located in the Maple Ridge / Langley area of British Columbia provides custom reman services to local, regional and international wood industry clients.

A competent experienced employee team provides diversified lumber drying and remanufacturing services using a full complement of equipment including seven kilns; Stenner resaw line; twin band resaw system; Stetson Ross planer; and Weinig moulder.

We are seeking a creative and innovative General Manager who has the skills to manage the existing operation but, more importantly, sees the opportunities and builds the company into the future. A team leader oriented to building an atmosphere where the team succeeds and delivers daily through the Values of the Company:

- Lumber reman management experience with knowledge of kilns, planers and resaw operations
- A successful history in working with and managing people to get the most from them
- The ability to build a high functioning maintenance and production team
- Financial and budgeting experience in an operational setting

The remuneration package reflects the importance of this position and will interest qualified and successful reman management personnel.
