

PLANT MANAGER – WOOD PRODUCTS

CHILLIWACK, BC

This high-volume low-cost manufacturer produces a variety of wood products sold into domestic and Pacific Rim markets. Products include agricultural and nursery stakes; doweled posts and fence rails; heat treated certified lumber; crating and pallet stock.

The plant Manager will lead the employee team in all aspects of manufacturing and maintenance of this successful operation.

Candidates will have recognized success in production and/or maintenance supervision in sawmill, lumber remanufacturing or value-added wood products plants. While plant management experience is definitely an asset, it is not essential. Dependability, honesty and integrity will be foremost qualities of consideration.

Chilliwack, population 85,000, is located in British Columbia's beautiful Fraser Valley. While housing affordability and location are major factors, Chilliwack offers excellent education and healthcare systems, diverse shopping and dining choices, limitless recreation and leisure activities.
